Using the Application:

1. Home Screen

   After the app has fully loaded, you are then lead to the home screen.

   On this screen you will see a safety tip displayed on the top, as well as four different clickable tiles to navigate to.

   - House – this page explains how to find your house number as well as your street name.
   - 911 Phone – this will lead you to the phone calling simulator
   - Quiz – [not yet implemented]
   - Escape Plan – [not yet implemented]

2. House

Clicking the House tile will lead you to the screen below.

Navigating to this page, you will see a picture of a house with the house number enlarged, showing where to find your house number. Clicking the arrow on the bottom right will lead you to the next page where it explains how to find your street name.
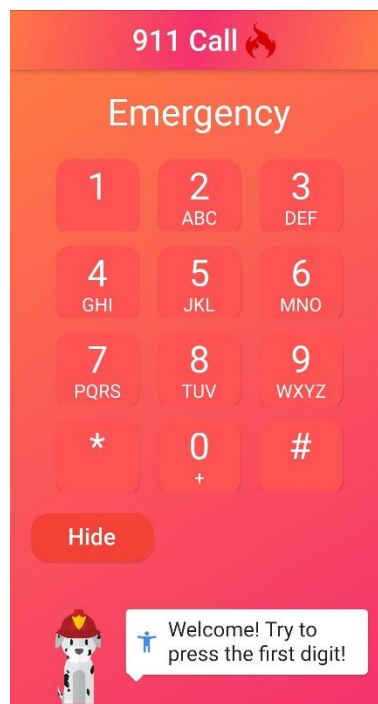

3. 911 Phone

Clicking on the 911 Phone tile will lead you to this screen below

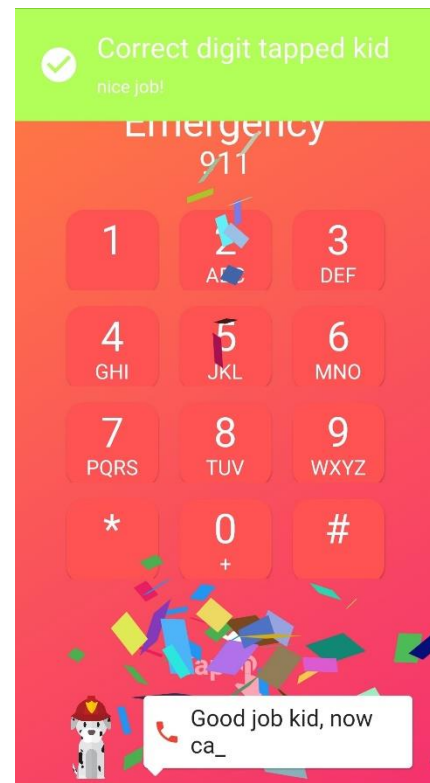

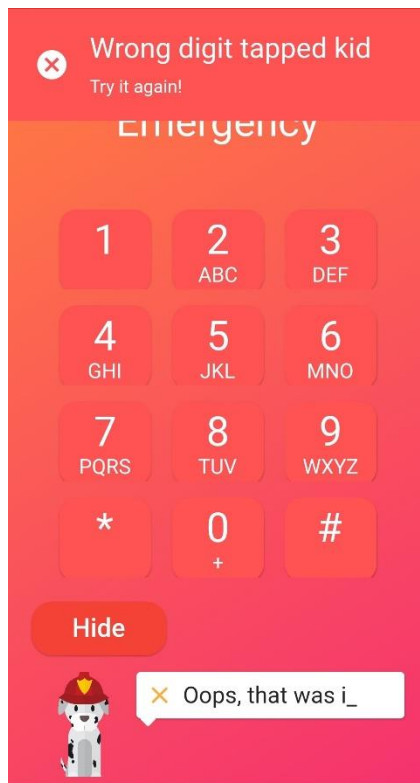

This is a calling simulator. To begin, you are prompted to press the Emergency button on the bottom left. Doing so will lead you to the dialing screen below.
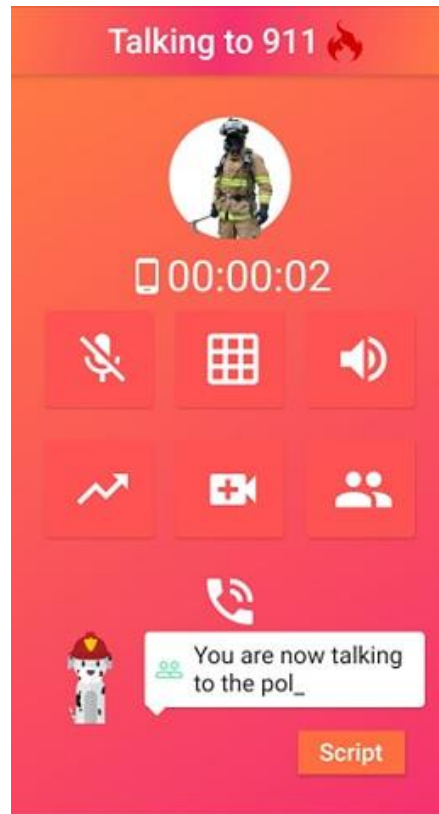

Here, you are prompted to press the first digit of the phone number, in this case, the number 9. The option to hide the hint is also available, you just need to press the Hide button.

Depending on whether you entered the correct number, either screen below will appear in correspondence.

After successfully dialing 911, you will be prompted to tap the phone icon to begin calling the emergency respondent.

Now that you are talking to the emergency respondent, you have the option to open up a script of the typical dialogue between a dispatcher and a caller.

This concludes the application and all its uses so far. Feel free to contact us at our email: xzn628@uregina.ca if you have any further questions or concerns.
